Knowledge prerequisites:

- Reading music in at least one staff comfortably
- Should have basic knowledge of key signatures
- Must be in a performing class (either band or choir)

Specific skills or knowledge students will gain:

- Developing aural, composition, analytical, and performance skills
- Becoming fluent in the vocabulary and symbols used to describe musical elements and their interactions
- Students will be prepared to take the AP exam by the end of the course
- Skills will build upon the foundation, once a topic has been visited it will continue to be used as the course progresses

We will achieve this by:

- A review of the fundamentals of music: scales, key signatures, circle of fifths, intervals, triads, and inversions
- Daily Ear training: rhythmic, melodic, and harmonic diction
- Weekly sight singing
- The study of figured bass, two-part counterpoint, four-part harmony, seventh chords, secondary-dominant functions, and musical form
- The study of common compositional techniques

Our school has a “Responsible and Acceptable Usage Policy for Cell Phones and Electronic Devices”. Students are expected to adhere to the policy. In this class, the use of personal technology items is allowed for educational use. Failure to comply with the acceptable use policy will result in a discipline referral without warning. Please utilize your time in passing periods and lunch to take care of these items. In this classroom, silence of these items is expected.

Expectations about class participation:

This class is based on completion. Students will have the opportunity to retake quizzes and exams for the opportunity to master skills. Every unit will include written and aural analysis related to the unit topic. It will also include workbook assignments in each chapter. These assignments are to be kept in a theory notebook. Notebooks will be checked on a regular basis and students will be graded on their completion of homework and completed in class notes.

Written assignments are due at the beginning of class.

Late assignments will be accepted but will receive no more than 80%.

Arrangements may be made at my discretion to resubmit assignments in order to improve a grade.

Students will be given guided notes as a part of their lecture notebook to aid in understanding and participation. This will include workbook pages that correlate to a given chapter. Students are able to make up lessons they miss but will be docked points for failure to complete this. This is the student's responsibility. I will not seek out students for missing class days.

Examinations: Students will take exams over various theory topics as per the AP course guidelines. Short quizzes will be given throughout the quarter and comprehensive exams will occur at least once a quarter.

AP Exam

AP Music Theory has a corresponding exam that participating schools worldwide administer in May. The AP Exam is the culminating assessment in all AP courses and is thus an integral part of the Program. Students are expected to take the corresponding AP Exam. Through this they have the opportunity to earn valuable college credit as well as college test taking experience.

Five kinds of questions are ordinarily included in the exam: multiple-choice questions based on recorded music played within the exam; multiple-choice questions without aural stimulus; written free-response questions with aural stimulus; written free-response questions without aural stimulus; and sight-singing. The written free-response and sight-singing sections are scored by AP Music Theory teachers and college music faculty.

Academic Integrity: “The maintenance of academic honesty and integrity is a vital concern of the University community. Any student found responsible for violating the policy on Academic Integrity shall be subject to both academic and disciplinary sanctions.” Via studentlife.unomaha.edu/integrity
